The Test

Mate I'd had this bit of a trouble
There was something not quite right
I was going to the toilet
All through the bloody night

Then I couldn't pee when I got there
Ah well only just a trickle.
I'd go back to bed then I'd be up again
I was really in a pickle.

So I went to see my Doctor
To check on what was wrong.
I've only just turned sixty
And I'm still feeling fit and strong.

Now your at an age the Doctor said
Where things can start to fail!
We better check on everything
So hop up on the scale.

You're a little overweight he says
Things are looking pretty grim
You'll have to cut down on the grog, he says
Mate, I've got news for him.

He poked me and he prodded me
He made me cough and hack
And take my deepest bloody breath
Whilst he listened to my back.

My blood pressure, he checked that out
With this thing around my arm.
We'll check your blood for sugar
It can't do any harm.

Well things were going great mate
I'd started to get dressed
Then he said he'd have to do
A Bloody prostate test.

Lay here on the couch he says
My rear was all extended
I know now how those players felt
When Hopoate got suspended.

He stuck his finger in my date
It sent my sensors reeling
I jumped so high when he wriggled it
I left claw marks in the ceiling.

He pushed again and felt around
Said things feel pretty stable
He said I might feel like a pee
But I'd just done it on the table.

I'm sure that he was smiling
As I crawled further up the bench
I thought there's got to be a better way
My cheeks began to clench.

He said a PSA in blood test
Is a surer way to telling
This is just a nice quick way
To check for any swelling.

I couldn't get my strides up quick enough
I left skid marks on the floor
I'm sure I heard him laughing
As I bolted out the door.

Well they took me blood and checked it out
My PSA score was one point three
And my bladder was infected
See that's why I couldn't pee.

They say I must get tested once a year
So things are pretty grim
But I won't be going back again
At least mate not to him.

See I've found this lady doctor
Her hands are smaller than the rest
If they have to check me prostate
I'll enjoy the bloody test!!
